Selectmen's Meeting

$10,000 GIFT OFFERED TO TOWN

A benefactor, wishing to remain anonymous, representing the George E. Coleman, Jr. Foundation, offered Mattapoisett Selectmen a gift of $10,000 to be used for a purpose out of the ordinary at the last meeting of the Board of Selectmen. He suggested that the Foundation would be very pleased to have the gift benefit either the ambulance, the police, or some aid for the young people of the community. Selectmen John DeCosta and William Hubbard accepted the offer with pleasure. They said that they would like to discuss the possibilities when the full Board is present at the next meeting.

PUMPING STATION DISCUSSION

Selectmen conferred with Ron Michalski and Phillip Sheridan, the town's consulting engineers from Tighe & Bond, on completion of the sewer system pumping station. The engineers said that the final cost of the station will be $539,439.00 which compares to the original estimate of $547,000. Various changes have altered the cost and some estimates were greater than the bids and the engineers were pleased with the final total.

Engineer Phillip Sheridan said that he and Ron Michalski had inspected both the pumps and had contacted the contractor, Purcell Pumps, regarding vibration in the pump shafts. He said, however, that there was no serious long term effect to the present operation. The engineers said that they found the flow recorder now working very well. Superintendent Charles Morgan backed up that statement when he stated that tests over a period of time indicated deviation of less than 1%. He pronounced himself very well satisfied with present recording data. Mr. Morgan said that his only concern now is with the pump vibration.

The engineers told Selectmen that the TV inspection of the Main Street sewer line had disclosed an 8" hump in the pipe but no open joints and no cracked pipe. They said that this section of the pipe is deep and would not be affected by heavy vehicles.

Mr. Michalski told Selectmen that the Federal grant application now pending for study of septic systems outside the sewer system has not yet been heard from but that he ex-

nce upon a time

(July, 1975) a Garden of Beauty came to make its home in the town of Mattapoissett. Now this garden was very, very small, but it was nurtured by a few loyal patrons so that it grew and flowered.

The support of friends through a 356-hour Marathon resulted in a joyous burst of growth and the enrichment of its beneficiary: Sudden Infant Death Syndrome. Even more, the tiller of this garden became attached to all who had been so loyal -- so that when the time came to expand her area, she wanted everyone to know of her appreciation and of her hope that the opening of her larger territory on Route 6 in Wareham (which will include all the facilities of Gloria Stevens, next door, under Carole's supervision) sometime this Fall would bloom and that this new soil would better serve her many friends and that ALL in her garden would live happily ever after.

God Bless You All

the Governor during the 1979 legislative session. Massachusetts is one of the few states in the country to appropriate state funds for public energy conservation efforts.

The awards come on the fourth day of "Energy Awareness Week", proclaimed by the Governor for the week of September 29 through October 5, 1980.

"Today we are taking concrete steps to reduce the public sector energy bill," said the Governor during a morning press conference at the Brookline housing development, the site of one of the energy projects. "We expect that our total bond program will save about 40 percent of the public sector energy bill," he added.

The Governor was accompanied by Energy Secretary Joseph S. Fitzpatrick and Communities and Development Secretary Byron Matthews.

The funds will go directly to the Executive Office of Communities and Development for distribution to the various housing authorities.

TRI-COUNTY MUSIC ASSOCIATION

Noting the high cost (about $2,300) to present each concert, the chairman of the Tri-County Music Association's subscription drive for the 1980-81 concert season emphasized the importance this year of attracting as many new supporters as possible in order
"to continue bringing these enjoyable programs to our area".

Mrs. Barbara Macy also noted the tax deductible aspect of the various categories of support for individuals as well as businesses. A patron's contribution, she explains, except for the price of the two tickets that are included, is deductible. Benefactors' and sponsors' contributions are entirely tax deductible.

program to be presented tomorrow, Thursday, by George Avila of Mattapoissett, curator of the New Bedford Glass Museum and founder in 1974 of the New Bedford Glass Society, which directs the Museum.

Mr. Avila, now a director of the New Bedford Glass Society, is the author of "The Pairpoint Glass Story", published in 1968.

He has chosen as his topic for tomorrow, "Sandwich Glass" and he will show 100 slides, with commentary.

A designer of cup plates, Mr. Avila recently designed a plate titled "Snowflake", which will be available for the 1980 Christmas season.

The meeting, to be held in St. Anthony's Church Hall, will begin at 1 p.m., preceded by a meeting of the executive committee at 12:30 p.m.

Mrs. Genie Perry and Mrs. Jane Welch will direct the serving of refreshments after the meeting.

"KNOW YOUR OWN TOWN TOUR"

On Wednesday, October 15th, between 9:15 and 11:15 a.m. the Marion "Know Your Own Town" tour will meet at the Town Hall to visit the Town Clerk's Office, Assessors' Office, and the Department of Public Works Office.

The tour will proceed from the Town Hall by school bus to the police and fire stations to see the town facilities and the equipment there, and to meet Chief of Police Brian Scott.

Other stops will include the sewage pumping station on Front Street, the filter beds at the Marion town dump, and the League financed glass recycling bins. In addition, the tour will visit the wells off North Front Street; and town employees will be on hand to explain how these systems work and answer questions.

The last stop will be Little Neck Village where we will learn how successful the solar hot water and heating system has been in this housing development for the elderly.

Anyone interested in how local government works and where our taxes are used is invited to attend. The bus will hold 40 people.

Letters to the Editor

The caption "Rochester Tax Rate Unchanged" in an article in the Standard-Times of October 1 is misleading. The follow-on statement that the average homeowner will pay about the same tax as last year is incorrect.

Last year the tax rate was $73.50. This year, if property had been assessed on the same basis as last year, the tax rate would have been about $84.00. This is an increase of $10.50 or more than fourteen percent over last year. This increase is due to increased appropriations voted on by the townspeople and decreased reimbursements from the state.

The projected new tax rate of $21.00 under revaluation includes the overall fourteen percent increase in taxes due to the above.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

When the Boston Naval Shipyard closed in 1974 many of my co-workers retired or lost their positions permanently due to the closure of the naval shore establishment in Charlestown and its Annex in South Boston.

Other Federal workers in Massachusetts, especially those in the Department of Defense, also lost their jobs or retired.

Many of these people are unaware that during their employment period they were exposed to asbestosis, a deadly disease that leads to cancer. They were exposed while working aboard ships, aircraft, in shops and warehouses.

Other people working on defense projects in Massachusetts' private industry were also exposed to asbestosis.

I have important, vital information concerning asbestosis and would like to correspond with my former co-workers and

O.R.R. Sports

by Alan Worden

The OR football team dropped its game to Bishop Feehan 21-17 at the Rochester gridiron on September 27. The Bulldogs lost what Coach Rodman referred to as a "heart-breaker", despite fine performances from running back Paul Tinkham and kicker John Welling. Tinkham carried 16 times for a total of 135 yards. After a Feehan touchdown, Paul answered back with a 76-yard run, and combining with Elling they put 7 on the board. Extra points were not enough for the OR kicker as he cleared the posts with a 42-yard field goal giving ORR the lead 10-7. Feehan then put 6 on the board but Tinkham again put OR on top 17-13. But this was just not enough, as Feehan went to the air to score yet another TD winning the game 21-17.

The OR soccer team remains undefeated this week after beating both Diman Voke and Dartmouth. In the Holy Family game the Bulldogs walked over the visitors 5-2. Goals were scored by Carlos Coelho with 2 and with one each, John Arsinio, Hector Gonzalez, and Cesar Zimmer. OR then went on to beat Dartmouth 4-2. Goals were scored by Gonzalez with 2, and Ingraham and Zimmer with 1 each.

The cross country team ran two races this week against Stang and Wareham. The team won its Stang meet 42-17 due to the fine running by John Chase with a first place finish, Derek Degrace, second; Steve Viera, third; Scott Jepson, fourth; and Bob Hazen in seventh. Unfortunately, the young runners were not so successful with their meet against Wareham as they were shut out 15-50.

The volleyball team remains undefeated after downing two more teams last week. The team met Wareham at the OR court and came off winning 15-10 and 15-9. Beth Douglass and Cheri Verkade led the team on the defensive side to a victory over New Bedford High after coming back from a 8-1 deficit to win 15-13 and 15-6.

And to wrap it up, OR field hockey team lost to the Vikings 3-1. The only goal by OR was scored by Debbie Sylvia.

BIRD SEED SALE

As the weather gets colder we can anticipate seeing our Winter Birds returning to the area. The Museum's first Bird Seed Sale of the season will be Saturday, October 18th. If you enjoy feeding the birds through the winter months, please join our regular bird seed sales. Your participation in our sales helps the Museum with its educational programs which have been reaching a great part of southeastern New England. Your support is greatly appreciated. This will be the first of three sales. The seed available includes: regular Sunflower seed, Black Sunflower seed, mixed Wild Bird seed, cracked corn, sunflower hearts, and thistle seed. The number to call for orders or information is 993-3361. Please have your order in by October 11th. The seed can be picked up in Dartmouth any time between 9 and 4 on Saturday, October

SATURDAY PROGRAM - OCTOBER 11th

Hiking is a very beautiful pastime, good for the body as well as the mind. And, in the early fall the hiker can enjoy an invigorating walk through the woods observing the changing foliage and learning about the cycles of animal life and plant life as the year turns colder. This will be the aim of our "All Day Hike and Picnic", the Saturday Program for October 11th. All hikers should meet at the Museum Outdoors before 10:00 a.m. Pack a lunch. Our hike will probably be completed by 2:00 p.m. There is a small admission for non-members. For more information call 993-3361. There will be no separate field walk that morning.

"YARD SALE FOR KIDS"

Christmas Crafts

As the leaves start to change into beautiful hues of red and gold, our thoughts travel towards the holidays. What better time to appreciate the beauty and quality of fine hand-crafted items. They are perfect for gift giving and collecting.

On Saturday, October 11, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. the Artisans of Plymouth County, in cooperation with the Plymouth County Extension Service, will hold their annual Crafts Sale on the Extension Service grounds, High Street, Hanson.

Craftsmen from Plymouth County will have for display and sale a wide variety of items. Some of these will be cloth toys and dolls, children's gift items, quilting, dried and silk floral arrangements, holiday decorations, stenciled pillows, tole painting, cut lampshades, loom weaving, hand painted china and jewelry, scrimshaw, pocketbooks, stamps, Early American decorative art, silk screening, and doll house miniatures. Some Artisans will be demonstrating their crafts.

The Artisans will all be under cover in tents and the public is cordially invited free of charge. The event is the organization's annual fund-raiser.

Members of the Southeastern branch of the Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation will supply refreshments with proceeds going to the Foundation.

The Extension Service is easily accessible from Routes 27 and 58.

Master Charge will be accepted.

ARTCRAFTERS FALL FESTIVAL

The third annual Artcrafters Fall Festival will be sponsored by the Marshfield Historical Society on October 25 and 26, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., at the Furnace Brook Middle School, Route 139, Marshfield.

Space is available on a first come, first served basis for jewelry, metalwork, leathercraft, ceramics, needlework, painting, pottery, weaving, woodwork, scrimshaw, and macrame, among others.

Artcrafters wishing to exhibit may call Elizabeth Bradford in Marshfield (834-4173) or address correspondence to P. O. Box 515, Marshfield, MA. 02050.

New Bedford Kiwanis

The Kiwanis Club of New Bedford, which meets each Tuesday at 12:15 p.m. in the Skipper Restaurant, will be starting its new year on October 7.

Program chairman Lou Rodrigues says the upcoming year will be an exciting and productive one. The year will be full of events, fund-raisers and speakers.

The programs will start on Tuesday, October 14, and will continue each week with a featured speaker at each luncheon meeting. The October program is as follows:

October 14 - Ed Pyne, Development Director, St. Luke's Hospital.

October 21 - Vincent Peternel, Director, S.E.R.T.A.

October 28 - Yvonne Rousseau, Community Representative, Office for Children.

Any businessmen who may have an interest in hearing the speakers are cordially invited to attend any of the luncheons held by Kiwanis. Reservations are not necessary, but for further information or if you have a topic of interest to businessmen in the area and would like to be a speaker at a Kiwanis luncheon, please call Lou Rodrigues at 997-0734.

INSULATING SHADES

Saving Energy isn't a fad. It's Your Future!

I. WINDOW QUILT

• ATC's Window Quilts, at R4.25, are three times as effective as storm windows. They eliminate 79% of winter heat losses through single glazings and reduce heating costs by as much as 50%. They eliminate window drafts and chill in windy solar radiation and hot spots in summer. Air conditioning frequently becomes unnecessary. Now available in 4 decorator colors: white, camel, bone and navy.

II. HEAT STOPPER SHADE

A New Bedford Shade Exclusive! The Heatstopper Shade, at R-12, has 5 layers of Metallized plastic which form air spaces when the shade is lowered, and neatly contracts when raised to take up no more room than the conventional shade you probably now have on your window. PVC frames are used to form a seal on all 4 sides and inside mounts are recommended. A pull chain made of stainless beads is used to raise and lower the shade for trouble free operation. The room side of the shade is made of white or eggshell shade cloth for decorating and cleaning ease.

III. LLUMAR SHADE

Llumar insulating window shade fabric is mounted on a conventional wood roller right here at New Bedford Shade and will reduce heat loss in winter 54% better than a typical vinyl fiberglass shade. The Llumar shade sells for slightly more than suggested retail prices of standard custom shades.

RAPID PAY BACK

These insulators are perfect for any home or building where heating or cooling costs are high. They fit most windows, large glazed areas, and sliding glass doors. Commercial models meet strict fire codes in schools, hospitals, high rises, and public buildings. Contractors inquiries invited.

REMEMBER

Windows account for 35% heat loss in your home. All shades insulate; a good quality shade can save up to 31% heat loss through your windows in winter.

More Havoc

"AN AFTERNOON WITH JUNE HAVOC"

"No matter that you have seen or read about any of these people who were part of June Havoc's life, they emerge in a wholly new perspective that is truer, funnier, and more devastating than anything you ever suspected," according to Harper & Rowe, publishers of "More Havoc".

On Sunday afternoon, October 12, at 3:30 at Keith Junior High School, New Bedford, Friends of the New Bedford Free Public Library will present "An Afternoon With June Havoc" in a most unusual and dynamic performance -- her first in southeastern Massachusetts. Miss Havoc has worked professionally since she was two years old. At four, her credits included numerous film appearances. Her seventh birthday found her a top child star in vaudeville -- "Dainty June", the darling of vaudeville, headlining all over the country on the Keith-Orpheum Circuit."

In Miss Havoc's first book, "Early Havoc", she graphically recalls the Great Depression Years when the only life she knew in vaudeville was obliterated. In order to survive she entered the Dance Marathons.

Her performance in "Marathon '33" won her four Tony nominations.

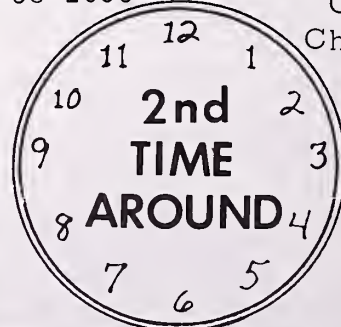

Her latest autobiography "More Havoc" tells her life story up to the present time with 'humor and bite' as she recalls the years of starving and stuffing her shoes with newspapers, modeling, early marriage at 13, her love affair with an older man, her Broadway successes, the famous people she knew, about her sister, Gypsy Rose Lee (Louise) and her mother, Rose. After the performance, her books will be on sale and inscribed personally.

It is a rare treat to have a person of Miss Havoc's calibre appear in New Bedford. She will bring great charm and vitality to the stage of Keith Junior High, an act based upon wide experience and promises to delight her audience.

Dr. Melvin Yoken, President of Friends, says that the N.B. Library will benefit from Miss Havoc's appearance by providing the means for carrying out its programs and added services for the children, for tape recordings for the blind and foreigners, for

SMU OFFERS SEMINAR SERIES ON TIME AND MOTION STUDY

Southeastern Massachusetts University, through its Center for Research and Business Activity, is offering a six session seminar series on Time and Motion Study. The series will run for six consecutive Saturday mornings starting October 11th.

Richard J. Ward, dean of the College of Business and Industry, stressed the growing demand by area business for personnel possessing time-and-motion study skills. "This program", said Ward, "will introduce management and union officials to the basic fundamentals involved, make them acquainted with the tools and approaches of the methods engineer, and allow them an opportunity for active participation in an actual study, including development of standard cost data."

Presenting the course will be Dr. Thomas Higginson, associate professor of business administration at SMU and consultant to several business firms in southeastern Massachusetts. For additional information contact Clyde Mitchell, Center Coordinator,

SMU RECEIVES $114,085 GRANT FROM NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

The National Science Foundation has awarded a $114,085 grant to Southeastern Massachusetts University for research in mathematics.

The research project, "A Study Comparing Formal Algebraic Representations with 'Natural' Mental Representations", is under the direction of math professor James Kaput and psychology professor Judith Sims-Knight. The information gathered from the research will be used to learn more about how to teach mathematics, how the mind works while using mathematics, and how to develop computer languages that are easier to learn.

"Our aim," said Professor Kaput, "is to try to understand how the language of mathematics is fundamentally different from the language we learn almost from birth." Kaput pointed out that this particular angle to the study of math education is quite new. Professor Sims-Knight added that "it is an approach that some people talk about, but it is very rarely done."

"I regard this type of research as very necessary," said Kaput. "And, personally, I find it very rewarding, as it uses almost everything I can learn in a huge variety of areas - linguistics, cognitive psychology, epistemology, mathematics, and computer science." Kaput, a member of the SMU faculty since 1968, had long been an advocate of multi-disciplinary research and education. "I don't like one-dimensional education because the world we live in is not one dimensional. There is no single discipline that can explain how to live in this world."

"What we are trying to find out," said Sims-Knight, "is to what extent language constrains or expands on our ability to think, and in this case we are focusing in on the language of mathematics. It is often the case that we try to apply 'everyday' language to mathematics, and we get into trouble," Professor Sims-Knight also pointed out that her interest in this type of project is a result of her interest in "the relationships among mathematical reasoning and logical reasoning".

To aid in the research, Kaput and Sims-Knight will be working with math students from five colleges and universities and local secondary schools.

The $114,085 grant is among the larger research grants that SMU has received.

(maximum 18 strokes/day). Team prizes will be awarded for gross and net scores.

For those golfers without MGA Handicaps, the Calloway system will be used. This will be an individual tournament.

The two divisions - Men's and Women's - will be awarded trophies and prizes separately.

"We want this year's tournament to be a big success," says Richard Carroll, Tournament Advisor. "The stakes we will be playing for are much higher than a trophy or title. We'll be playing to give future generations a better chance to be born free from the threat of birth defects." Mr. Carroll reports that every other minute a child is born with a birth defect. The March of Dimes is working to prevent birth defects by supporting medical services, research, community service, and public and professional health education programs throughout the country.

"Birth defects prevention takes team work," he adds. The entry fee for the two-day tournament is tax deductible. Golfers will compete for the nearly $2,000 in prizes and awards which are provided by the tournament sponsor, Plymouth Savings Bank.

S.M.U. Nursing Program

CLINICAL STUDY PROGRAM

On September 5 fourth-year students in the College of Nursing at S.M.U. began a six-week clinical study program in the Mental Health Unit at Union Hospital of New Bedford. The program is part of a one semester course at S.M.U. taught by Mrs. Teresa Kellermann, a registered nurse and assistant professor in the University's College of Nursing.

Nursing training today is a complex, multi-faceted program. It involves physical and psychological care, theoretical study and practical experience. Union Hospital is working in conjunction with S.M.U. to provide nursing students with experience in these dimensions of medical care.

Union Hospital and the College of Nursing at S.M.U. believe that two essential aspects of general nursing care are the psychological study of the adult patient and a concentration on the unique needs of the individual. A nurse must then make clinical judgments concerning a patient's care at the psychological and biological needs of the individual."

For the next six weeks, the nursing students will work in the Mental Health Unit of Union Hospital on Fridays from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. The Unit is a short-term, voluntary commitment crisis intervention center for mentally ill or emotionally disturbed patients. The nursing students will come in contact with psycho-social diseases such as paranoid disorders, depression and adolescent adjustment reactions. The wide range of illnesses and ages of the patients in the Unit will help students to develop strong interpersonal and communications skills; skills which are invaluable in the general nursing care of the adult patient.

Union Hospital recognizes the need to provide nursing students with on-the-job training. "We're happy to work together with other facilities to provide clinical experience to students who will become health care professionals," states Jean Moore, Director of Nursing Services. "The Hospital encourages the students to use equipment and resources here which are essential to their clinical experience and, of course, the care of our patients."

The students have been assigned to one of the three districts in the 27-bed Mental Health Unit, where they are under the supervision of Mrs. Kellermann and the primary nurse in that district. The students are responsible for two patients a week. They will make nurse's notes on the patients' routine self care, appetite, and other daily activities.

The students regroup with Mrs. Kellermann for three hours on Mondays and Wednesdays to continue their classroom studies and to discuss their experiences of the past week at Union Hospital. This method of instruction allows the students to combine practice and theory, and affords them the opportunity to actively use this new knowledge.

ACTIVITY COORDINATOR TRAINING

Southeastern Massachusetts University's Institute on Health and Long Life announces a training program designed to strengthen the knowledge and skills of personnel responsible for activity programming in long-term care facilities. The course, which will be held at the Dartmouth House Nursing Home in South Dartmouth, begins on October 15 and will continue for five consecutive Wednesdays. Each session will run from 9:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. Participants who successfully complete the program will be awarded 3.0 Continuing Education Units.

Instructor for the program will be Deborah Converse. Currently director of the Cape Cod Council of Churches Nursing Home Program, Ms. Converse coordinates in-service workshops for nursing home staffs.

She has also served as Instructor for several Institute training programs.

Among the topics she will cover are philosophy of activity programming, aging process, theories of motivation, team building, innovative activity programming, developing volunteer potential, and nursing home rules and regulations.

The Institute on Health and Long Life is an independent activity within the Division of Continuing Studies at SMU. In addition to programs geared to nursing home staffs, the Institute offers training for other agency personnel who serve the elderly.

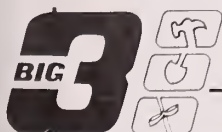

For more information about the Activity Coordinators Training Course, including fees and registration procedures, contact the Institute Staff Coordinator at 994-9681 or 636-8768.
